

The Kennard Family

Dear Praying Friends,

The past couple of months have proven to be yet another blessing as we continue to serve our Savior here in Meriden

. In January, we were following up with some of our guests who had been attending for a couple of months. As my wife was speaking with one of them, The lady shared that during one of our invitations she had asked Jesus to save her. We were greatly encouraged to hear this wonderful news and are praying that she will take the next steps of baptism and discipleship. Please keep Madison in your prayers.

During the month of January, we also had several first-time guests who have returned multiple times. One lady, who is the sister of Alex (a young man who began attending last spring and recently joined our church), started coming to our Wednesday evening Bible study. She has only missed a few Wednesdays since she began attending, and we are praying that she will also begin joining us for Sunday services.

Another young man, Tyler, began attending in January. He has recently started one-on-one discipleship and is also participating in an additional Bible study with myself and another young man in our church. Please pray for Tyler as he desires spiritual growth and has recently given up alcohol. His mother has attended a few services as well, and we are working on finding a time to connect with her to learn more about her spiritual needs.

We have also had another family begin attending our church. They have three older children who attend with them—the youngest is 17, one has special needs, and another is a Bible college graduate currently working at a nearby Christian home and school. This family has faced many trials while caring for their daughter with special needs and has been searching for a gospel-believing church that teaches and preaches the Bible. They have become involved in our adult connection groups and have faithfully attended since their first visit.

As a discipleship update, in previous letters we mentioned Danny, who trusted Christ during a Bible study this past year and was baptized this past summer. We were recently able to complete his discipleship, and I was especially encouraged when he asked if we could continue studying the Bible together. Because of this, we have begun a “Helps” class focused on how to study the Bible. Praise the Lord for those who desire to grow and learn more about the God of His Word.

We sincerely appreciate each of your prayers and your continued monthly support that make it possible for us to serve in this area. Your partnership in the ministry means so much to our family.

With gratitude,
The Kennard Family
